MUCH INTEREST IN CO. SCHOOL DAY

MRS. D. L. MAY SAYS, "COUNT LITTLE BRICK IN"

$500 OFFERED IN PRIZES

County Superintendent Says Each of The Schools Should Make a Float to Be Entered

"I think the idea of a Nodaway County School Day a fine one," said Mrs. D. L. May, teacher of the Little Brick School, north of Burlington Junction, when she was told of the idea yesterday. "Count Little Brick in on it now." Other such expressions are being received today by the Maryville Chamber of Commerce and by Leslie G. Somerville, county superintendent of schools, from people regarding the day that is proposed to take place in Maryville October 11.

Mr. Somerville mailed out from his office today the following letter regarding the affair:

"As you know we are always looking for whatever will help our rural school work. One of the best incentives to this work is the friendly competition developed through the display of our products and school work. "With this in view the Chamber of Commerce, backed by the business men of Maryville are furnishing an opportunity on October 11 for an exhibit of farm products and school work that will excel anything ever attempted in Nodaway for every rural school district in Nodaway County to build on a wagon or truck a float on which it will display the farm products of the school district, including exhibits of school work. These floats are to be entered in the name of the school.

"The list of prizes is not available at the present, but the total amount offered in prizes will be about $500. List of prizes and points on which they will be judged will be published at an early date.

"There will be a number of interesting activities in addition to the rural floats, but from an educational entertaining and inspirational standpoint the floats will be the big thing.

"This is not a gigantic job but deserves your most earnest consideration and will be a splendid chance to take a part in one of the most interesting educational events ever scheduled by any county.

"I am recommending that all school board dismiss the school that will take part in this parade and exhibit on Tuesday evening October 10 instead of Wednesday evening October 11 for the annual Fall Teachers Meeting. Each school should make a float and attend this great parade.

"Believing this to be a great event in rural school work in Nodaway County I am asking that you give this your immediate attention and write me that your school will have a float in the parade October 11. The construction and design of this float will be left to each school district.

Many of you are planning to attend our Vitalized Agriculture Fair, October 12, 13, and 14 and material for the Fair may be used on your float October 11.

"Fellow teacher, let's get behind this proposition and make it go. Please act at once and let me hear from you."

LODGE AND HITCHCOCK CONDEMN FRANCE'S ATTITUDE

Points Out That She Failed to Ratify Treaty Which Would Virtually Have Excluded the Turk.

Washington, Sept. 21.—Senators Lodge and Hitchcock today condemned the action of France in making an understanding with Mohammed Kemal Pasha, which made it possible for the Turkish commanders to threaten an attack at Constantinople. Lodge deplored France's attitude that appeared more provocative of war than peace. He pointed out that France failed to ratify the Sevres treaty which virtually would banish the Turks from Europe and also that she did not approve the naval reduction of the treaty agreed upon at Washington Arms Conference.

NODAWAY COUNTY LEAGUE IS MADE

BASKETBALL GAMES TO START SEPTEMBER 29

SCHEDULES SATURDAY

And Committee Will Also Make Rules To Govern—Games Played Out of Doors—Tournament

Thirteen of the sixteen superintendents of high schools in the county gathered last night at the circuit court room in Maryville and arranged to have a Nodaway County High School Basketball League. All the high schools of the county will be eligible to enter teams and the indications were that most of them will. Maryville will be one exception, however, as no basketball team will be organized until the close of the football season.

The season will begin Friday, September 29, and will continue until November 30, Thanksgiving Day. The games will be played on out-of-door courts, with the exception of the games of the tournament, that will be held near the close of the season in the gymnasium at the Maryville High School building.

A committee on rules for the League and one for making out the schedule for the season will meet Saturday afternoon at the office of Mr. Somerville, at the courthouse in Maryville. The members of the committee on rules are J. W. Pierce of Skidmore, J. N. Geyer of Pickering and L. L. Livengood of Elmo. The committee on schedule is C. F. Ross of Burlington Junction, J. N. Geyer of Pickering and Charles W. Wallace of Graham.

The superintendents showed a good interest in the organization of the league, with Mr. Somerville acting as chairman and J. M. Broadbent of Parnell acting as secretary. Some objection was raised by one or two of the superintendents regarding whether the games of the league are to be played out-of-doors or inside. Some of the schools practice inside but the majority of them have their courts outside, so it was decided that the games should be played out-of-doors.

It was suggested that the girls of the schools of the county might want to enter teams and that they should be entered in the tourney if they care to do so. Several of the superintendents indicated that they would like to enter teams of girls in the tournament.

The superintendents present at the meeting were J. W. Pierce, Skidmore; Miss Florine Allen, Lafayette; W. A. Power, Quitman; Miss Leona Badger, Conception Junction; Charles W. Wallace, Graham; C. H. Richards, Ravenwood; S. C. Richeson, Hopkins; Hubert Garrett, Clearmont; L. L. Livengood, Elmo; J. N. Geyer, Pickering; C. F. Ross, Burlington Junction; J. M. Broadbent, Parnell and L. E. Ziegler, Maryville.

Miss Bettie Turner, executive secretary of the American Red Cross, was in Burlington Junction and vicinity this morning in interest of the Red Cross.

CIRCUIT COURT TO CONVENE MONDAY

NOTHING OF GREAT IMPORTANCE—BUT FULL DOCKET

ARE INTERESTING CASES

Criminal Docket Will Not be Started on Until Monday, October 2

The usual quietness that prevails at the courthouse will be broken Monday when the September term of the circuit court opens. The jury panel has been selected and is expected to be on hand Monday for duty. No cases of big importance are scheduled to come before the court although in the number of cases it is considered a pretty full docket.

The parole docket is booked for the first thing Monday and will probably be only routine matter. The trial docket comes next and the cases which will probably command the most interest will be:

Edwin Masters vs the City of Maryville and the Peoples Telephone Company, Masters claiming that he sustained severe injuries on May 16, when he was knocked from a truck by a telephone wire. Masters is asking for $5,000 damages.

The case of the state against Ina Gray docketed for Wednesday coming from an appeal from the justice of the peace court where she was assessed a fine and given a jail sentence on each of the two charges of possession and sale of illegal liquor and the possession of a gun.

The case of the city of Maryville against Karl Malotte, et al for alleged gaming which comes from the police court is booked for Wednesday.

The equity docket is scheduled for Friday and this will be routine work before the court.

On the following Monday the criminal docket will be taken up. Cases charging the violation of the prohibition law seem to be the most popular, as there are fourteen on this docket. Forgeries and petit and grand larcenies come in for their share of the cases. There is one assault with intent to kill that being the state against Crossman Howell.

Grover Hatcher, who was shot by authorities two weeks ago at the Quitman picnic on a raid against bootleggers, is scheduled for trial Monday for violation of the prohibition law. Jess Hatcher is up on two charges of violation of motor vehicle law and of the prohibition law.

The case of the state against Hewitt McCleave for operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated is booked for Tuesday, October 3, and on the same day the state against Virgil Gray and Margaret Hewitt, charged with stealing stolen property of the Ramsey motor car at the Bedford Fair.

A total of forty-six cases are on the criminal docket for this term.

Next Thursday night the club will present a series of three plays at its regular meeting. The first of these plays is a fantasy, "The Sign of the Cleft Heart"; the second is a farce, "A Pair of Lunatics"; and the third a romance, "The Silver Lining."

The cast for these plays will be announced at the meeting tonight.

TEMPORARY INJUNCTION WRIT WILL EXPIRE TOMORROW.

U. S. WILL PROBABLY BE REPRESENTED IN NEAR EAST

Representatives Will Act as Unofficial Observers at Conference to Be Held Soon

Washington, Sept. 21.—The United States, although strictly aloof from political squabbles and European intrigues that threaten another war, will probably be represented at the Near East peace conference soon to be held in Rome or Venice. This was the report that came today from official quarters. It is said that the American representative will act as an official observer and will have no direct part in the conference itself.

RED CROSS FAVORS WELFARE WORKER

TO GIVE $250 FOR CAMPAIGN OF COUNTY

DELEGATE TO CONVENTION

Beal Roseberry Elected to Attend National Meeting at Washington, D. C.

Two hundred and fifty dollars was appropriated yesterday afternoon at the meeting of the board of the Nodaway County Chapter of the American Red Cross for the purpose of educational and publicity campaign over the county to create public sentiment for the employment of a county superintendent of public welfare. The meeting was held at the office of Miss Betty Turner executive secretary. This appropriation is a direct result of the Monday meeting of the Chamber of Commerce at which time J. Adams Puffer of Kansas City, one of the secretaries of the National Public Welfare Association, presented the public welfare work for counties.

Beal Roseberry, chairman of the Nodaway County Chapter, was elected chapter delegate to the national convention of the Red Cross, which is to be held at Washington, D. C., October 9, 10, and 11. Mr. Roseberry will go to Washington.

A regional Red Cross meeting will be held in St. Joseph September 27. Mr. Roseberry and other delegates will go to this meeting. He has been asked to speak on the soldier relief work under the subject, "Service to the Ex-service Man."

The invitation to make this speech was extended to Mr. Roseberry in recognition of the work Nodaway County has done for the veterans. A communication from the Southwestern Division office in St. Louis said, "Because of your interest in service to the ex-service man and the excellent record of your chapter it is logical that you take part in the discussion on that phase of the work."

Nodaway County already leads in Public Health work in preventive medicine and the feeling of the Red Cross board is that the county should also lead in public welfare work. The preventive work will more than pay the county the saving of prosecution expenses.

Concerning the work of the Public Health Unit, the following resolution was adopted, "The Red Cross chapter heartily approves the work being done by the Public Health Unit and commands a staff, headed by Dr. C. P. Fryer, for the work accomplished and pledges to the unit the fullest cooperation and backing of the Red Cross organization in the county."

As a recognition of this work and that the two organizations may be more effectively linked together, Dr. Fryer was elected a member of the Red Cross Executive Board.

Miss Lucy Davis, secretary of the executive board, having gone to California, Miss Grace Langan was elected to the position of secretary.

R. P. Hosmer was appointed at the meeting last night chairman of the Red Cross roll call for Nodaway County this fall. The time of the roll call has not been announced as yet but the time for the national roll call is November 11 to Thanksgiving day, November 30, and it is supposed that the one in the county will be at the same time.

NOT THE WORST OF IT

Thirty years ago John Haynes, a rancher living in a remote part of Mendocino County, Cal., built a gate across a roadway over which Isaac Crespin and his family must travel to reach their ranch adjoining. The gate, or gap, was built of such heavy timbers that one man could not open it unaided. It was a product of that maliciousness we call spite, and which in its many and varied manifestations, adds so much to all the ills that flesh is heir to. That degree of self-satisfaction with his own work, in thinking on the vexations, annoyances and exasperations to come to Isaac Crespin because of the hindrance placed in his way, was never to be called a pleasure, enjoyment, content or happiness, because the work, in itself, was of that nature which stirs the bile of bitterness, clouds the skies, and shuts out the sunlight.

Isaac Crespin retaliated. Courts, grand juries and supervisory boards in Mendocino County have, for almost a generation, been plagued by the spite gate on the road. For thirty years the world has seemed, to John Haynes and Isaac Crespin, living moving and having their being around that old gate, like nothing so much as a place in which the hell of evil and malignant hate and passion, venting itself in a great variety of malicious and spiteful ways. The narrowness of the narrowest human minds, tortured and afflicted them. We know this now, because, on a recent Sunday, meeting at a school-house entertainment, where both had gone armed, in that fearful uneasiness of mind which is the conscience of every spiteful man, they met and killed each other.

That was not the worst of it. One of the men was 70 and the other more than 60 years of age. The worst of it was that men could have lived so many years suffering such torments as afflict minds dominated by spites, prejudices and passions of hatred, malice and revenge and not have learned the truth. Few lives even of those in the most dire extremity can be as miserable as those lived by men of this type. For them the sun does not shine by day nor the stars at

ROGER W. BABSON SAYS THERE IS REASON FOR OPTIMISM

Authority on Business Situations Give Some of the Reasons He Sees for It.

"For the first time in over two years we feel justified in talking optimism. This means that clients now can proceed safely to put into operation their plans for development. The conservative and cautious policy which has served you so well during the past two years can now be reversed to one of more aggressive action."

This statement, speaking in terms of optimism in business has just been made by Roger W. Babson, noted authority on business conditions of the Babson Statistical Organization. Babson is known to be very conservative in his business advice service, which is subscribed to by thousands of the big business men of the country, and when he sounds a note of optimism it is regarded as significant.

Following are given some concrete reasons why he says the "business tide has turned," and that a spirit of optimism is justified at this time.

IN THE SHEPHERD'S FIELD

I walked one night in the Shepherd's Field; The stars in their wonted courses wheeled, And no new glory the skies revealed— There was no peace on earth. But as I climbed the Bethlehem hill I saw one bend o'er one who was ill And another bearing coal to fill A neighbor's scanty hearth, And I knew that Christ was there.

I walked up the mount a little space, And peered through the shadows for His face. But found Him not in the pictured place Beneath the olive trees; Then turning toward Kidron in the night I saw the men on their way to fight In Jordan's hall for a thing called Right, Nor hating their enemies— And I knew that the Christ was there.

Then I walked alone in Galilee, Where He fed the thousands by the sea, And taught and wrought in His ministry Of human brotherhood. There, did a presence my way attend, There did I hear the voice of a friend, Say, "Lo, I am with you to the end," And my heart understood— I knew that the Christ was there.

VENUS WELL WORTH STUDY

Constellation, at Least to the Eye of the Astronomer, is a Beautiful Sight.

The study of Venus is a branch of astronomy in itself. We are in the habit of thinking of astronomers as men who sit up all night in a dark observatory peering through great telescopes into the dim fastnesses of space. A student of Venus watches by day. At night his object is so brilliant that his eye would be dazzled by her radiance, exactly as it would be by an arc lamp. But in daylight the light of the sky drowns out some of Venus' gleamings. When the sky is clear, color values on her surface can be seen as sharply as they can on other planets at night. Venus is a beautiful sight by day. She has phases and looks like a little moon. Her normal color is yellowish white, but dusky areas of a blue tint can frequently be found on her, as well as gleaming creamy areas and white spots on either pole.

It is easy to make a drawing of Venus, but until recently photographing her was impossible. She is at her best when high in the noonday sky. If you have ever taken photographs you know what the effect will be to point your camera at the sun. The plate is instantly fogged. It was long supposed that we would never be able to take pictures of Venus because she is always so near the sun. Many observers tried it and failed.

The honor of finding a means whereby it could be accomplished falls to an American astronomer, Alfred Rordame, who has devoted 20 years to the study. Rordame perfected a screen of glass that was opaque to the blue rays from the sky but transparent to the light from Venus herself. One of his photographs, taken in full sunshine against a bright sky, is reproduced here. It is a remarkable achievement in photography as well as astronomy.

May Be New Gold Discovery.

An old gold miner who has just come from the gold claims on the Red Deer river, about 30 miles from Red Deer, says that there are now about a thousand claims staked along the river and there is much talk of big developments. Several samples of gravel have been tested out, and fairly good showings obtained, which are considered sufficient to warrant further development, although it is generally felt that the gravel will be more likely to pay through its platinum content, than through the gold recovered from the assays. The gold so far recovered is light in quantity, and assays are being sent to Philadelphia, New Jersey and Spokane for testing.—Montreal Family Herald.

Wanted Proof.

Aunt Mary was writing letters when seven-year-old Paul came into the room and wished to sit on her lap. She said she was too busy right then to take him, but if he would sit down on the other side of the table she would love from there.

"Distance lends enchantment," she quoted. For a few minutes Paul sat there and watched her. Then he said in indignant tones: "You're not doing it at all. I don't see any love letters coming this way."

Undying Songs.

"There are songs," said the musician, "that have never, never died. They go ringing down the ages." "That is true, sir," Brown replied. "For the past six months and upward I have heard my daughter try to kill two or three each evening, but they never, never die."—London Tit-Bits.

Bones of Dante.

At the close of the Dante celebrations at Ravenna, fragments of the bones of the poet, stolen in 1865 but later recovered, were reunited to the skeleton.

TESTS FOR GEORGE

By LOUIS H. RAYBOLD

© 1922, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

"No, mother," and Constance shook her bobbed head vigorously. "I am not going to marry George unless I am absolutely sure of myself—and him. I'm too modern and well trained to make a leap in the dark."

"And how," began her mother mildly, "do you propose to make yourself any surer than I already supposed you were, and may I ask, what does George think of all this?"

"George?" Constance answered her mother's second question first. "Why, George won't know anything about it until it's all over. Then, if he has failed, I'll simply say everything is at an end."

Constance rose with dignity and the impudence of the present young generation. "This is my marriage, mother," she said coldly, "and I'll attend to it!"

Now her daughter's engagement to George Morse had come to Mrs. Peck as a blessing straight from heaven. That her restless, dardevil child should give herself to so splendid and dependable a man.

That evening Mrs. Peck contrived a moment alone with George as he waited for Constance to put a finishing touch or two before coming down to go with him to the annual ladies' night of the club to which he belonged. And after a few moments' earnest conversation Constance's mother wound up almost tearfully. "Constance would never forgive me, George, if she knew I told you. But I did it for her good!"

"Don't worry, mother," said George. "I'll never give you away. I'm a hundred times obliged and can promise you everything will turn out beautifully!"

At that moment Constance appeared, but, strange to say, she was not dressed for attending ladies' night. Clad in short sport skirt, heavy sweater and woolen toque she seemed ready for an evening out of doors.

"George," she began gently, "I don't want to go a bit tonight. Instead, let's go over on Bennett's pond skating. Will you?"

George had risen and, hands in his pockets, was glowering, actually glowering, at Constance.

"What do you mean by this, Constance? You know I came here to take you. I'll wait exactly half an hour for you. Otherwise I go alone."

Remarkable to say, Constance, assisted by a mother who was inwardly wondering if she had been mistaken in George after all, was ready at the end of the half hour, and head high and chin proudly set marched off with George. The evening was not a particularly happy one.

Nor did Constance's two other carefully planned experiments meet with any more conspicuous success. Surrounding herself with half a dozen youngsters and two dogs just prior to this, on the next afternoon, she staged the scene for test No. 2.

George arrived, but instead of falling to and joining in their merry game, he rather peremptorily bade her "get rid of that gang and call off the confounded curs who were yapping at her heels!"

It was almost tearfully that Constance broached test No. 4. She hinted at it to George as they sat out in the couch hammock after the children had been dismissed.

"I couldn't marry anyone but a regular 'man's man,'" she said, apropos of nothing at all. "I'm so glad you're that!"

"But am I?" said George easily. "I'm sure that isn't the sort of a reputation I have among the fellows in the office. They consider me a regular lady killer! Look at you, for instance! How easily I captured you. And that reminds me: just when is to be our happy wedding day?"

For a moment Constance regarded him queerly. Then, "I'm not sure we are ever going to be married," she said coldly. "I'm not sure it's not all a mistake that we've found out just in time."

"How come?" asked George pleasantly, and Constance thought he seemed very little upset.

"Well, I—I've been testing you." She burst forth with the whole story, while George listened with a smile that was both tender and appreciative. When she had finished and was twisting her handkerchief into a tight little ball that was wet from sprinklings of tears which had accompanied the tale, George reached out with two strong arms and gathered Constance to him.

"There, dear," he whispered. "Cry on my shoulder. Do you love me?" "Ye-yes," said Constance.

"Going to marry me?" "Ye-yes," said the girl again.

"Well," said George triumphantly, "just see what that proves! I failed to meet your requirements and yet you love me! That shows I am the one and only man in the world for you. Now, if I'd only known! You see, as a matter of fact, I do like dogs and—but that's another story!"

And George's mother-in-law never told.

Degrees of Intimacy.

"Look here, waiter. You know me, don't you?"

"Oh, yes, sir. I know you quite well, sir. Will you have Scotch or rye?"

"I don't want a drink, waiter. I find that I have left my purse at home, and I thought perhaps—"

"Sorry, sir, but I don't know you as well as I thought I did."

American Built Monorail Is a Success

A monorail system that is proving fully as practical as the celebrated foreign ones has been devised by the American Magnesium company to run between its mine in southern California and the nearest railroad, 32 miles away. Using a single track, mounted high on a wooden framework, and with balancing rollers on either side, the monorail track can be laid at trifling expense over any sort of country. In tests, the little engine carried as many as twenty people without a balk.

SHORTAGE OF FORWARDS IN GIRL'S BASKETBALL AT M. H. S.

The girls of the Maryville High School held yesterday their first gathering for practice for basketball. It was found that all new forwards must be developed, as the forwards who played last year are now out of school. Those working out for the positions were Mildred New, Fern Murray, Laura Margaret Raines, Dorothy Dow, Loretta Jones, Margaret McMurray, Dorothy England, Faye Hornbuckle, Roberta Cook and Mary Coe. Miss Lois Nash is the coach for the girls and she will be assisted by Coach H. Frank Lawrence.

James Todd went to Kansas City this morning to attend the fifty-sixth annual meeting of the Missouri Press Association. J. F. Hull, editor of the Maryville Tribune, and president of the association, left yesterday morning to attend the meeting and was accompanied by Mr. Hull.

NO REUNION, SAYS MATZENAUER

Diva Cancels Suit for Separation Merely for Business Reasons

White Plains, N. Y., Sept. 21.—Although Mme. Margaret Matzenauer, opera singer and her chauffeur husband, Floyd Grotzback of San Francisco, yesterday cancelled suits for separation which both had brought here and in California, their tiff has not ended, according to the diva.

So far as she is concerned, the singer indicated, Grotzback's services as a "lady's maid," which he resigned to return to his taxicabs, are no longer in demand.

"There has been no reconciliation and can be none," Mme. Matzenauer announced through her attorneys.

Her sole object in dropping the action was to prevent litigation interfering with her operatic career, she said.

Mme. Matzenauer appeared in Maryville as one of the numbers of the Nodaway County Music Week last spring.

PRESIDENT HARDING SIGNS REPUBLICAN TARIFF BILL

Washington, Sept. 21.—President Harding today signed the new Republican tariff bill declaring that, "If we succeed in making effective the elastic provisions of the measure, it will make the greatest contribution towards progress in tariff making in the history of the country."

MR. AND MRS. H. E. MILES LOCATE AT SALT LAKE CITY

J. L. Kraft received this morning a letter from H. E. Miles, formerly advertising manager of the Maryville Tribune, in which Mr. Miles said that he and Mrs. Miles had decided to locate for the present in Salt Lake City, Utah. They left Maryville early in this month. The letter said that they would be in Salt Lake for several months at least. He had some offers of positions there that he was considering.

FORMER EDITOR OF MARYVILLE TRIBUNE BEGINS BIG JOB

Curtis Wray, Now Managing Editor of the St. Louis Times—Was Here Last Year

Curtis Wray, former editor and owner of the Maryville Tribune has begun his duties as managing editor of the St. Louis Times. Mr. Wray for the past few years has been an auditor for the Audit Bureau of Circulations and last year audited the circulation books of the Democrat-Forum, it being a member of the A. B. C.

Yesterday's St. Louis Times had the following story about Mr. Wray:

An enthusiastic Missouri journalist returns to his home State with the coming to The Times of Mr. Curtis Wray as assistant to the president of the American Press, publishers of the paper. Mr. Wray, whose years of labor as a Missouri newspaper publisher have in the past six years been capped by peculiarly intensive work outside the State in journalistic undertakings which have taken him from ocean to ocean, and throughout North and South, brings to his post on The Times an intimate knowledge of every detail of modern newspaper production possessed by few men in the Middle West field.

With these qualifications are an affection for the profession to which he has given life service, and a pride in his native Missouri and its achievements and opportunities for further accomplishments, which will give him at once a sure place in St. Louis business life.

Mr. Wray won early newspaper fame in Missouri as owner and editor of the Maryville Evening Tribune. E. E. McJinney of Springfield began his journalistic career as a co-partner of Mr. Wray in conducting the Tribune. In 1911 Mr. Wray became business manager of Mr. McJinney's Springfield Morning Republic.

With the coming of the World War he resigned that post and went to Chicago to engage in a publishing business of his own in that city, where as president and managing director he was in active control of 11 Cook County and Northern Illinois newspapers.

Four years ago he became associated with the Audit Bureau of Circulations, an international organization of daily newspapers, periodicals and general advertisers, of which The Times is a member. As a representative of the bureau, Mr. Wray has visited and officially inspected the records of many of the important publications in the United States and Canada.

Not only is he pleased to become permanently identified with St. Louis affairs, but his friends throughout the state are welcoming his return in messages of warm greeting which come constantly to him. It is another instance of a Missourian trying the best elsewhere, and returning to give his ripened equipment and effort to the state he loves best.

Find Girl Burned to Death.

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 21. — The body of a girl about 17 years old, was found burned to death on a funeral pyre near the banks of the Missouri river near here today. The body was discovered by a farmer who notified the police. It was badly charred, one leg being burned off.

CENTURY NOTHING TO HER

Mrs. Hannah Eldred of Baldwin, L. I., was ironing a shirt at 7 o'clock the other night and singing—she always sings when she works—when a hundred or so descendants and other relatives came in and reminded her that it was her hundredth birthday. Mrs. Eldred reads without glasses and is astonishingly vigorous for her 115 pounds. The photographer said, in an aside to one of the daughters: "Can she walk unaided?" Mrs. Eldred overheard and answered him by dancing a jig. Then, just to prove her pep, she went out into the yard, chopped wood, hung up a washing on the line, pushed a wheelbarrow around, and then climbed a ladder.

Secretary of the Navy Denby Welcomed Back Home

Secretary of the Navy Denby was welcomed back to America after his trip to the Orient in ways that must have pleased him greatly. The illustration shows how the boys at Goat Island training station, California, greeted him, and how the famous family smile broke out on the face of Assistant Secretary Theodore Roosevelt when the secretary arrived in Washington.

$37.50 ROUND TRIP FARE AND SURCHARGE TO NEW ORLEANS

In Addition to This the Pullman Fare is $8.50 to $20 for the Round Trip

All members of the American Legion who are planning to attend the Legion Convention October 16 to 22, in New Orleans are requested to give their names to John Mutz at the Bee Hive shoe store within the next few days. Plans have been made by the Malcomb MacDonald and Duncan American Legion posts of St. Joseph for all members of the American Legion from this part of the state to go together to New Orleans.

In a letter received by Dr. R. C. Person, commander of the local American Legion post, this morning the exact amount of the railroad fare and the Pullman fare to New Orleans was stipulated.

The railroad fare, round trip, is $34.13 plus a surcharge of $3.42 which makes a total of $37.55. Then the Pullman fare runs from $20 for a standard lower down to $8.50 for a tourist upper. The upper berths are lower and the lower berths are higher so it is up to the person himself to say whether he wants to pay higher to ride lower or ride higher and pay lower.

The Pullmans will be parked in the yards at New Orleans and will be used by those who go as sleeping quarters while at the convention.

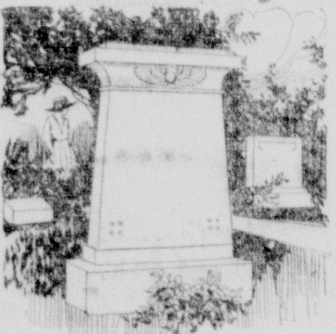

A special Pullman has been provided for ladies and married couples. Any member who wishes to take his wife or any other lady relative with him should make arrangements ahead of time so as to get reservations in this special Pullman.

H. G. McClary, who is chairman of the New Orleans committee of the St. Joseph posts is a Maryville boy.

RIOT GUN IS USED TO QUELL RUNAWAY STEER

Watertown, Mass., Sept. 21.—Pedestrians along Main street, in this city, scattered to places of safety when a steer that had broken loose from the Brighton Stockyards galloped down the main highway.

Police were called and an officer went after the animal with a riot gun. Three bullets ended the steer's wild career.

Sisters Visiting At Guenther Home Near Conception, After 33 Years

Mrs. Theodore Guenther, who lives three miles south of Conception, and Mrs. R. W. McDonald, Reliance, S. Dak., sisters, were in Maryville today to have their pictures taken together. They were enjoying a visit at the home of the Guenthers, the first one they have had in thirty-three years.

The sisters were born in Germany, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Wolfe Busch. When they were children their parents immigrated to America and settled at Plattsville, Wis. Here the daughters grew to be young women and were married. Thirty-eight years ago Mrs. Guenther and her family moved to the farm on which they now live. Her sister married a Mr. Kohler and continued to live in Wisconsin. Five years after coming to Missouri Mrs. Guenther went to Wisconsin for a visit and saw her sister, for the last time until a week ago when she arrived here from South Dakota.

During the thirty-three years Mr. Kohler died and the sister married Mr. McDonald. Fifteen years ago Mrs. McDonald and her family moved to South Dakota.

"Have we talked!" exclaimed Mrs. Guenther this morning when asked about the reunion with her sister. "Well, I guess that we have. We have not run out yet and I do not think that we will."

Mrs. Guenther says that she cannot stand to make trips on the train or by motor car or that she would have gone to South Dakota to see her sister long ago.

Mrs. McDonald was accompanied here by her daughter, Miss Anna Kohler. They expect to remain for about three more weeks.

Mr. Guenther and their daughter, Mrs. A. G. Hongler, were in Maryville with the sisters.

OFFICIAL PAID HIGHER THAN MAYOR ASKS CUT

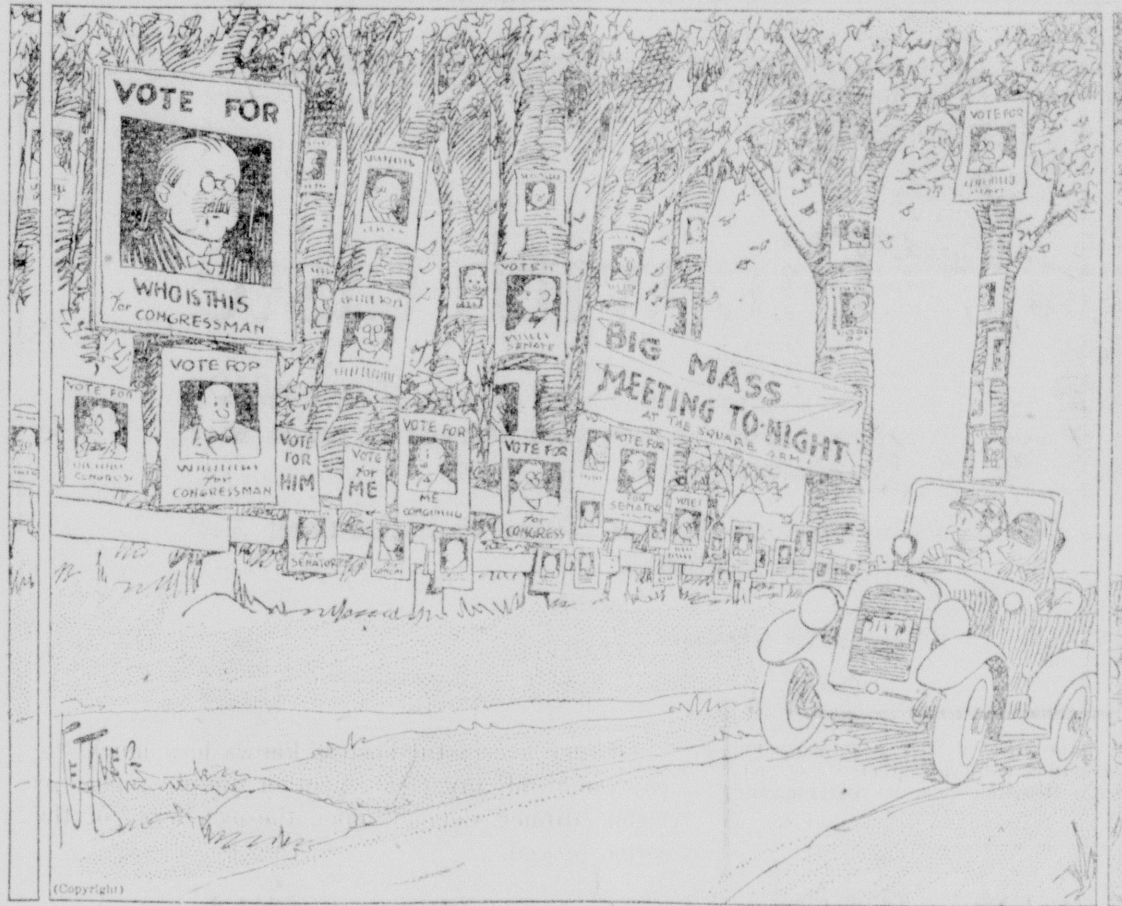

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 21.—Modesty is the middle name of Norwood's new Service Director, though his official signature is only Bush Parker. Following his appointment recently he learned that his salary of $3,000 was in excess of that received by the Mayor and promptly filed request with the City Council that it be reduced to $2,400 on the ground that no subordinate officer should receive more pay than the head of the municipal government. His request was granted.

 Poplar Bluff, Mo., Sept. 21.—An eighteen-months-old calf, belonging to Lloyd Inlow, near Greenfield, has its heart in its mouth.

The beat of the heart can be plainly seen when the lump in its throat expands and contracts. The animal appears to be healthy, and despite this deformity the calf has no difficulty except in getting food down its throat. The calf has to eat soft foods.

Communication

A CORRECTION.

Editor Democrat-Forum:

An erroneous article appeared in the September 8th issue of the Democrat-Forum, in which it was stated that the members of the Farm Clubs were in favor of a merger with the Farm Bureau Federation. In regard to the foregoing assertion, this matter came up before our county board meeting recently and I was asked to correct those errors, which seem to be almost in direct conflict with the facts in the case.

The people of Nodaway County are entitled to know just how this matter stands. At the sixth annual convention of the M. F. A. held at St. Joseph, August 29 to 31, a vote was taken on the proposed merger with the Farm Bureau Federation.

The merger was voted down unanimously. The result of this vote does not indicate much anxiety on the part of the farm clubs for the merger.

The article referred to, also states that William Hirth is president of the Missouri Farmers' Association. William Hirth is a director at large on the State Board, and C. L. Moody of Marion County is president of the M. F. A. I ask the people of Nodaway County to beware of those erring publications, for they are misleading.

The merger will come only by the Farm Bureau Federation making many corrections and offering to the M. F. A., a fair and unbiased proposition, which I regret to say they have failed to do so far.

"A Square Deal" to all, is the motto of the M. F. A., and we are willing to meet the world on that basis.

Thomas Tallon,
 Pres. Nodaway Co. M. F. Ass'n.
 (The article in question came from the Columbia Evening Missourian—Editor.)

Stop—Look—Listen
 You people who are tampering with home brew—
 You people who talk of "my boot-legger."

You little women who go about the room shaking a cocktail mixer.

You editors who are trying to make me law a lie by bringing back beer and wine and the beer saloon.

You politicians who want the saloon back because you think you need it in your business.

What are you doing?
 When your daughter goes down the street after dark her safety depends upon the law and peoples respect for the law.

Your property, your home, your business, your bonds, your bank, depends wholly upon the law for protection.

Will you weaken that law and expose yourselves to the anarchy Bolsheviks and misrule to which this violation of the constitutional prohibition amendment will prove the opening wedge.

Any one who remembers the time when our forefathers for a while the reign of law and the terror, destruction and misrule which followed practiced and upheld by men who had, and did afterward pose as honest men, will fear to open the flood gates to the lawless desperate liquor fiends, sinner and drinker, to whom appetite and greed overrule all else.

There are enemies of the constitution, who are waiting for a chance to overthrow our laws, and social compact and bring in the reign of lawlessness that have followed their misrule everywhere.

Will you help them by countenancing any violation of our constitutional prohibition law.—S. N. Walcott.

SWALLOWS COCKLE BURR,
 DIES TWO YEARS LATER

Birmingham, Ala., Sept. 21.—Death came to Orlando Banks Spinson, Birmingham youth, in a peculiar way.

Two years ago young Spinson, it is stated, accidentally swallowed a cockle burr. For some time he experienced no ill effects. More recently he complained of feeling ill. He was taken to a local hospital, where an X-ray examination revealed the cockle burr lodged in his right lung.

Death followed within a few days.

WESTERN CANADA CROP

EXCEPTIONALLY HEAVY

Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 21.—Vast quantities of binder twine will be used in tying up the grain crop of Western Canada by the time the present harvest is completed. It made into a single strand the twine, it is estimated, would encircle the earth at the Equator 133 1/3 times and reach twenty times from the earth to the moon.

Canada's total wheat crop this year, according to the first official estimate just issued by the Government Bureau of Statistics, will be 320,968,000 bushels. This is more than 20,000,000 bushels larger than last year's crop.

17 MILES OF WIRE IN BIG RADIO EQUIPMENT

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 21.—Engineers of the Crosley Manufacturing Company, operators of Radio Station WLW, in this city, have calculated that there is nearly seventeen miles of wire in the great aerial above their broadcasting station. The antenna is made up of sixteen wires, 140 feet in length, each composed of seven strands of No. 22 wire, making a total length of 15,680 feet. The counterpoise and lead-in wires, also stranded and multiple, make the total length up to 38,060 feet, which reduces in miles to 13.67.

Why That Lame Back?

That morning lameness—those sharp pains when bending or lifting, make work a burden and rest impossible. Don't be handicapped by a bad back—look to your kidneys. You will make no mistake by following this Maryville resident's example.

Louis Anderson, 501 North Walnut Street, says: "I had a bad fall which left my back in poor condition. I suffered for some time from dull pains which caught me in the small of my back and my back was lame and sore. I felt miserable and worn out and was hardly able to be about. I read of Doan's Kidney Pills in a local paper and purchased some. The first box brought great relief and after I had taken three boxes I was cured of the attack. I highly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Anderson had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Paris, Sept. 21.—Divorce made simple—the simplest possible—is to be found in Burmah, if one can believe the following announcement recently published in the Rangoon Times.

"Annulment of marriage—Notice is hereby given that I, the undersigned, have broken my matrimonial bonds with my wife, Sunn Kun, beginning today, for she is impertinent, rebellious to her duty and disobedient to ward me and my parents, in spite of numerous punishments.

"Signed, I. M. G. KUN."

Mother-To-Be,
Read This—

Here is a wonderful message to all expectant mothers. When the Little One arrives, you can have that moment more free from suffering than you have ever known. An eminent physician, expert in this science, has shown the way. It was he who first proposed the great remedy, "Mother's Friend." Mrs. C. J. Hoffman, Scranton, Pa., says: "With my first child I had a doctor and a nurse and then they had to use just the same old remedies, but with my last two children I used only 'Mother's Friend' and had only a nurse. I had no time to get a doctor because I wasn't very sick—only about ten or fifteen minutes."

Miss Jennie Garrett of the Methodist choir, is in charge of the music, and is planning for two violin numbers, an anthem by the choir and a hymn.

BATTERY HORSES TO BE KEPT IN HARRY HARRISON BARN

Requisition Has Already Been Sent in For Thirty-two Head of Horses

Captain Eugene A. Maynor, commander of Battery C. of the Missouri National Guard, made arrangements today with Harry Harrison for renting the building at the corner of Vine and Second streets for the purpose of a stable and a corral for the horses of the battery. The contract is to be sent away for approval soon. The building was formerly used for a garage. It is 80x50 feet. It will be equipped with stalls for horses. With the barn goes a lot of 132 feet square, which will be used as a corral and picket line space for the stock. The consideration is $40 a month.

Captain Maynor says that the barn and the corral will be kept clean. It would not be possible to meet the government requirements and keep it any other way. Men will be on the job all the time to see that it is clean. Besides there is no dwelling near the barn.

The requisition has already been sent in for the horses, thirty-two of them.

In Loving Memory

Of our darling little son, Walter Gay Gross, who died one year ago today, Sept. 21, 1921.

God took him home

It was His will;

But in our hearts,

We love him still;

His little crib is empty,

His little clothes lay by;

Our little blue eyed darling

In a casket white did lie,

We are on our way dear brother,

To the bright and shiny shore;

Where we expect to meet you

When our trial and cares are o'er.

Sadly missed by father and mother,

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Gross.

Mrs. Keef and Gerald Home

Mrs. G. R. Keef and her son, Gerald

Keef, returned last night from a 3-months' tour of the West. They went first to Denver, then to Los Angeles, San Francisco, Portland, Spokane and back by the way of Butte and Billings, Mont., visiting relatives in Los Angeles, Albany, Ore., and in Washington. Gerald, who was graduated from the Maryville High School last spring, says that he is undecided as to whether or not he will attend school this winter at the State Teachers College.
